We believe God called us here to Houston to serve and we look forward to making new friends and growing deeper in faith. We welcome those who attend CCCC from a little further our way or anyone who wants to imitate the Bereans spoken of in Acts 17.

Names: Charlie and Tricia Delgado

Type: Mixed

Location: Brittany Lakes

We have been married for almost 31 years and have 2 adult daughters and a son entering high school this Fall. Members of CCCC for 17 years, we jumped in and began serving from day 1 with the Children's Ministry. We know personally the gift of participating in a Small Group as we embraced multiple Groups before becoming navigators 6 years ago. Our dog, Levi, looks forward to Group each week and would gingerly take center stage if we let him. Nature and the outdoors is one way we decompress from the daily grind and is the reason we go "glamping" any chance we get.

Two years ago I tried something new and joined a women's small group. And I learned quickly how important small group is. I got to know people from my church and have a sense of belonging. And now I'm trying something new again and leading my first small group. I am a bit nervous but also I am really looking forward to what God has in store for us. I am a widow who has 5 kids and 7 grandkids and 2 great-grandkids. I am fascinated by the history of the Bible and the real places where it took place; I have even lived in some of them. I love reading and arts and crafts. I do a lot of origami and also some amigurumi (and if you had to Google that word to know what it is, that's ok).
